If you checked medical, please provide a letter from your treatment provider(s). Each letter should provide the treatment provider’s credentials to conduct the evaluation and give an opinion about whether you are able to return to law school; indicate whether the treatment provider saw you in person; whether the treatment provider is continuing to provide treatment; whether continuing treatment is required for you to be able to function as a full-time (or part-time) law student; whether you are able to function as a full-time (or part-time) law student without treatment; and whether the treatment provider considers we need to be aware of any safety concerns related to your return. Each letter should be on the treatment provider’s office letterhead, dated, and signed by the treatment provider. If the condition involved an addiction issue, you must also provide us with a copy of your treatment plan, if one exists. In addition, you must sign a consent or release of information form to allow law school representatives to speak with each treatment provider who provides a statement regarding your fitness to return. The law school's consultant will review those assessments to determine if he or she agrees. The law school reserves the right to request that your treatment provider complete additional forms or provide additional information to allow us to assess your fitness to return and complete the program of study. Also, the law school reserves the right to ask you to see an independent medical provider or counselor, at the law school's cost, for a second opinion.

If you checked "other," please describe the circumstances in detail.

The law school reserves the right to request that you provide additional information or documentation regardless of the reason(s) you checked.

Please note that if you were academically dismissed, to return you must submit a petition to the faculty Academic Affairs Committee, via the Registrar's Office, and then have that petition granted.

14. During the period you were not enrolled at the Law School, please check any that apply:

I was enrolled at another educational institution. If yes, please provide the name of the institution and arrange for a transcript to be sent to the Law School Registrar's Office.

I was terminated or involuntary separated from any employment. If yes, please provide the name and contact information for the employer(s) and basis for the termination.

I lost a professional license, such as a CPA license. If yes, please provide the details and relevant documentation.

I was discharged from the military on an-other-than-honorable or dishonorable basis. If yes, please provide relevant documentation.

I was arrested for, charged with, or convicted of a crime. If yes, please provide complete information about the basis for the arrest, charge, or conviction, and provide all documents that reflect the basis for the arrest, charge, or conviction and the status of any open or closed matter.

15. Please carefully review your initial application for admission to the Law School and provide any necessary amendments, including documentary support. If you need a copy of your application, please contact the Law School Registrar's Office. Please review the following policy regarding amendments: <http://www.jmls.edu/policy/pdf/student/amendments-admission-application.pdf>

I do not have any amendments to my application for admission.
